

USER AGREEMENT

This agreement defines the terms for the use of the site <http://kompozit-ut.ru> (hereinafter referred to as the site) materials and services by site visitors (hereinafter referred to as users).

By browsing the site's pages and using its services, users agree to the terms of this User Agreement (hereinafter referred to as the Agreement), including the privacy policy and the procedure for collecting and processing the site's personal data by the site administration.

The site administration has the right at any time to change the terms of the Agreement unilaterally, while the new edition of the Agreement comes into force from the moment it is posted on the site, unless otherwise provided for in the terms of the Agreement in the new edition. The text of the Agreement posted on the website is considered by default the current (current) edition of the Agreement.

Attendance Statistics

The site uses automated tools designed to collect anonymous statistics on visits. They include information about the IP address, provider, browser, screen resolution and operating system installed on the technical means (computer, phone, etc.) of users. In addition, the journal stores information about the source pages of the transition to the site.

To collect statistics, the site administration uses third-party statistics collection systems Google Analytics and Yandex-Metric.

Respecting the right of users to confidentiality, the site administration does not use automatically collected data to identify the user's identity, communication with him, does not publish them. The purpose for collecting statistical data is to ensure the site security, improve it, optimize the speed of work and increase its convenience for users.

Site Content and Copyright

Images and information, presented on the site, are posted for informational purposes only, can be taken by the site administration from open sources or published on the site on other legal grounds.

The rights to these materials belong to their owners. Users are not entitled to use the site materials without the consent of their copyright holders, and the site administration is not responsible for their independent use by users.

In this case, users act at their own risk and must independently evaluate the legitimacy of their behavior, including the need to establish the actual copyright holder of the relevant materials and obtain the consent of the latter to publish (use) them.

If you are the copyright holder and object to posting on the site, contact us by e-mail nauka@ut-mo.ru. The site administration is ready to assist in the removal of the relevant data.

Cookies

During a visit to the site, some information is stored on the user's computer or mobile device in the form of cookies (small files that are received by the user's browser from the visited site).

Cookies can be used to solve certain problems, for example, improving the site, more efficient navigation, interacting with users, saving personal settings, etc.

Most modern browsers have functions that allow you to block cookies, delete them completely or partially, set retention periods, etc. You can learn more about managing cookies in the instructions or in the guide to the browser you use, because the necessary actions may vary in different browsers.

Personal data

The current legislation of the Russian Federation relates to personal data such information as surname, name, patronymic, date and place of birth, addresses, phone numbers, email address, data on education, profession, family, social, property status, income etc.

If users do not want their personal data to be processed by the site administration, they should refrain from providing them, and if they were provided by the user, inform the site administration about the need to stop processing personal data by sending a notification to the e-mail address nauka @ ut-mo .ru.

The site administration does not intend to collect, request or process any other personal data (for example, personal phone numbers, personal e-mail addresses (e-mail), postal addresses, etc.), with the exception of data necessary for the correct provision of site services, namely, the surnames, names and patronymics of users, the voluntary provision of which by personal data subjects is provided for by special forms for entering relevant information on the site pages.

In connection with the above, the contact information voluntarily provided by users of the site by completing special forms for entering relevant information on the pages of the site <http://kompozit-ut.ru> should be “working” (corporate) and should not be “personal” contact information of users.

In case of violation by the site users of the said prohibition on the provision of personal contact data, such behavior of the subject of personal data can be regarded by the site administration as malicious and unscrupulous, which under certain circumstances and the availability of relevant grounds may lead for the civil data subject to the civil, administrative, criminal and other forms of liability in cases and in the manner provided for in the legislation of the Russian Federation.

The site administration does not verify the accuracy of personal and other information provided by users and does not evaluate, does not establish and (or) does not check in any way the users legal capability; while the site administration proceeds from the fact that users are legally capable persons and provide reliable personal and other information.

On their part, the site administration ensures, through organizational and technical measures, the protection of users' personal data confidentiality and prevents their unauthorized use by third parties, including accidental access to them and any manipulations with them.

Personal data voluntarily transmitted by users can be stored, systematized, accumulated, clarified, used, depersonalized and transmitted by the site administration with the aim of the deep study of customer needs and improvement of the goods and services quality.

Using the services and materials of the site, the users agree without additional that during processing the orders placed through the site, the transfer of user personal data to third parties, affiliated or entered into the agreement with the site administration that provides for the protection of personal data.

Personal data provided by users can be used to contact the site administration or a representative acting on its behalf.

In some cases, the site administration may provide third parties with generalized (modified) statistical information about site users.

Goods and services (work)

The site administration does not carry out activities in the retail sale of goods (work, services) for personal, family, home and other similar needs.

Prices for goods and services (works) presented on the site are for reference only, are not final and may be changed unilaterally by the site administration at any time without any notice to the site users.

The prices of goods presented on the site are indicated by default excluding the cost of services (works) for applying any symbolism to the goods.

Information on goods and services (works) presented on the site, including prices, is not an offer to conclude an agreement on the proposed conditions and is not an offer / public offer in the sense of the norms of Articles 435, 437, 494 of the Civil Code of the Russian Federation, but invites users of the site to discuss the deal conditions.

The sale of goods and services (works) presented on the site is possible only after discussing all the terms of the transaction, as well as the conclusion of the written agreement between the seller and the buyer (contractor and customer), defining all the essential terms of the transaction.